Listen Listen to the Voice of Love

A Favorite New Song,

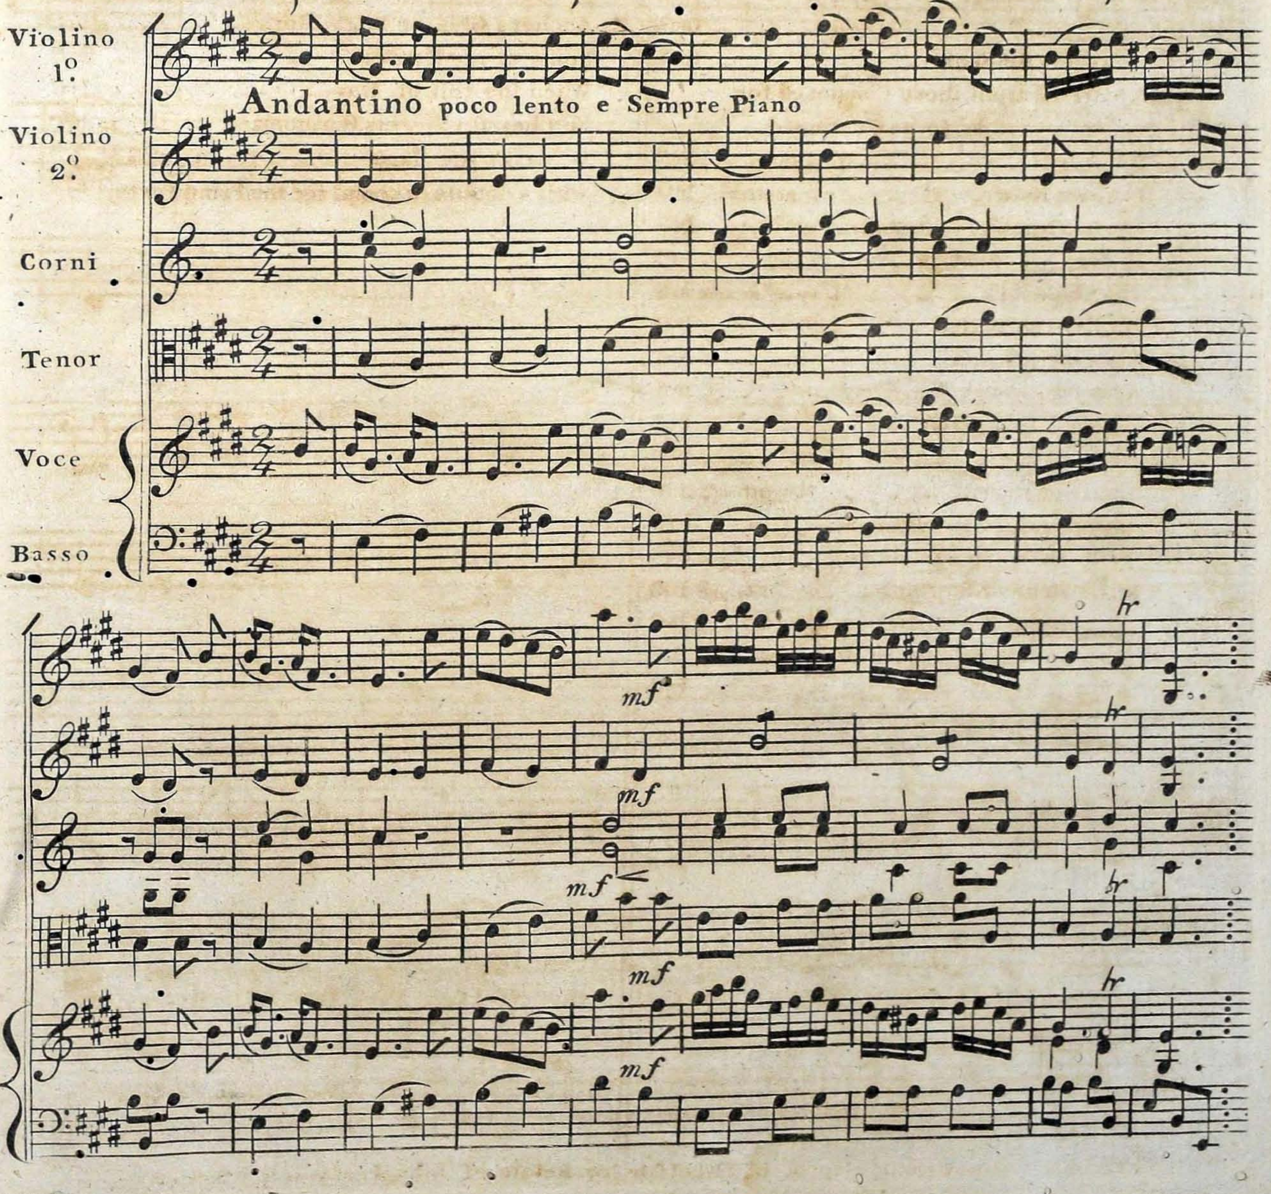
Sung with the Greatest Applause by Master Welsh,

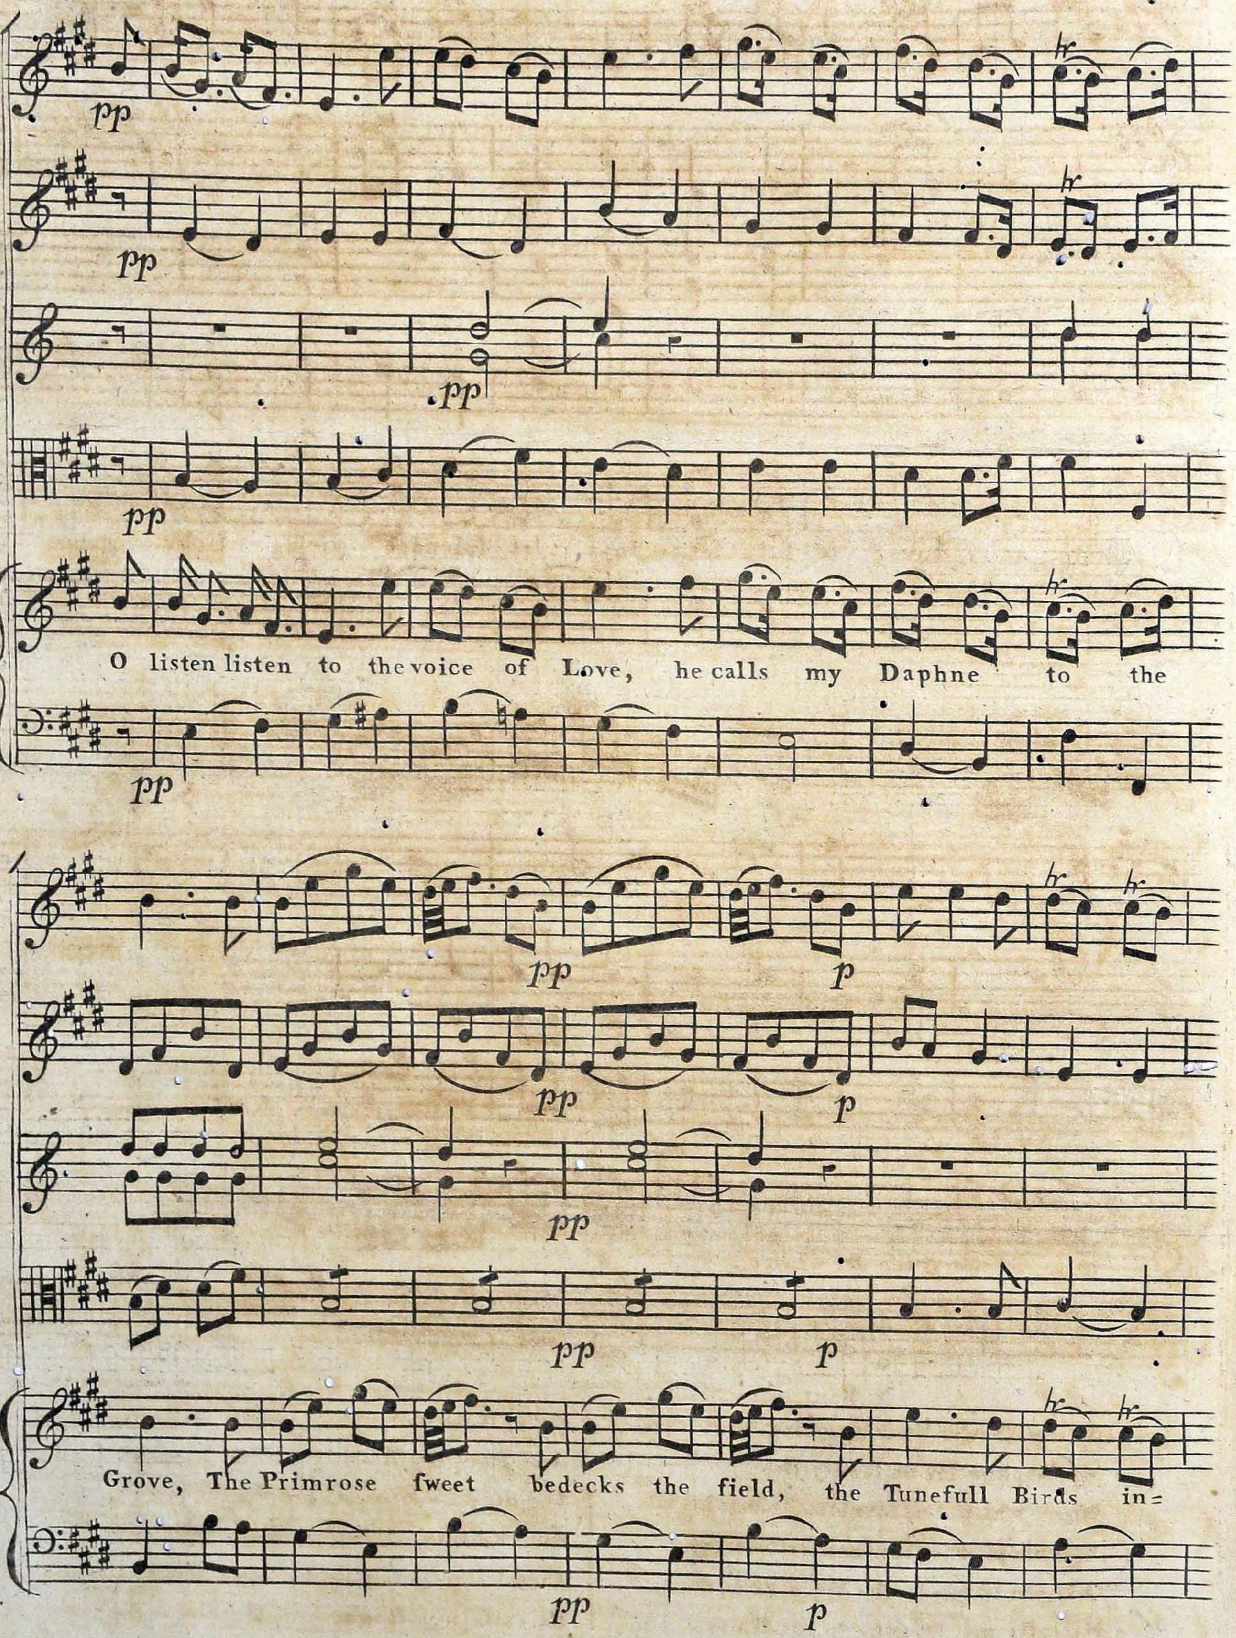
at Vauxhall Gardens.

Composed by Mr. Hook.

Enter'd at Stationer's Hall. Price 1s.

London, Printed & Sold at A Bland & Weller's Music Warehouse, No. 23 Oxford Street





O listen listen to the voice of Love, he calls my Daphne to the Grove, The Primrose fweet bedecks the field, the Tunefull Birds in=

2

Where Flow'rs their blooming sweets exhale,
My Daphne let us fondly stray,
Where whisp'ring love breaths forth his tale,
And Shepherds sing their artless lay;
O listen listen to the Voice of love,
He calls my Daphne to the Grove.

3

Come share with me, the sweets of spring,
And leave the Towns tumultuous noise;
The happy Swains all chearfull sing,
And Eccho still repeats their Joys;
Then listen listen to the Voice of love,
He calls my Daphne to the Grove.